All Commands work well except ZReport. My code sorts the objects in the order they are null times and then the null ones come to the top. However, if the device has the same switch time, the first in the list will be null, so it goes to the bottom. And as in the output example you gave, they can't keep their previous order in the list. I tried a lot on it but couldn't solve it. (The issue is about plug10 and lamp1)
